The Verb Tener: Conjugation and Forms

The verb tener is one of the most important irregular verbs in Spanish, meaning "to have." It is widely used not only to express possession but also in many idiomatic expressions and to describe age, obligation, and more. Understanding its conjugation is fundamental for learners following the Avancemos curriculum, especially in the Gramatica B section where verb usage becomes more complex.

Present Tense Conjugation of Tener

The present tense forms of tener are irregular and must be memorized. They are:

- yo tengo – I have
- tú tienes – you (informal) have
- él/ella/usted tiene – he/she/you (formal) has/have
- nosotros/nosotras tenemos – we have
- vosotros/vosotras tenéis – you all (informal, Spain) have
- ellos/ellas/ustedes tienen – they/you all have

Past and Other Tenses

In Avancemos Gramatica B, students also encounter the preterite and imperfect forms of tener. For example, the preterite conjugation is:

- yo tuve
- tú tuviste
- él/ella/usted tuvo
- nosotros/nosotras tuvimos
- vosotros/vosotras tuvisteis
- ellos/ellas/ustedes tuvieron

These forms are essential for expressing completed actions in the past. The imperfect forms, such as tenía, describe ongoing or habitual past actions and are also covered in Gramatica B exercises.
