3. Vegetables: Common vegetables include carrots, celery, and onions, which add depth to the flavor.
4. Herbs and Spices: Fresh herbs like parsley, thyme, and bay leaves enhance the aroma and taste.
5. Broth: Homemade chicken broth is ideal, but store-bought options are convenient.

2. Sauté the vegetables: In a large pot, heat some oil over medium heat, then add diced onions, carrots, and celery. Sauté until they become soft.
3. Add the chicken: Place the chicken pieces in the pot, allowing them to brown slightly.

4. Pour in the broth: Add enough chicken broth to cover the chicken and vegetables. Bring it to a boil.

5. Simmer: Reduce the heat and let it simmer for about 30 to 40 minutes, or until the chicken is cooked through and tender.

6. Remove the chicken: Take out the chicken and shred the meat, discarding the bones and skin.

7. Add rice: Stir in the rice and let it cook according to package instructions, usually around 15-20 minutes.
